The Selectmen's Message

In the year 1963, the Board of Selectmen organized as follows: Walter Silveira, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen and Public Welfare; James B. Lanagan, Clerk; and Earl L. Holden, Veterans' Agent.

The amount of "free cash" or available funds certified by the Department of Corp. and Taxation as of Jan. 1, 1964 is $169,872.49.

During the year numerous committees were appointed or reactivated in an effort to affect proper studies of the problems facing the town and then to offer remedial or corrective recommendations to the town meetings for consideration and action.

A Federal, State, and Town Relationship Committee was organized to study subject problems and recommend appropriate action by proper departments. Comprehensive studies were made of Federal studies, programs, projects, grants, funding, and proper procedures to follow in obtaining benefits available.

The Sewer Committee was reorganized with instructions to review previous committee recommendations and plans that would require up-dating and to also recommend site for a treatment plant. The Town will not qualify for Federal funds for a treatment plant or studies until land is taken, or an option on same is taken as evidence of intended action. The State Board of Health has periodically advised the Board of Selectmen that removal of pollution from the Acushnet River must be effected in a series of definite phases starting immediately.

A Dump Committee was organized and later renamed as the "Sanitary Refuse Disposal Committee". A successful land-fill method of refuse disposal was instituted at the present dump site and a greater degree of efficient dump control was instituted with a full-time attendant on hand. The committee was instructed to bring in suggestions and recommendations pertaining to proper control methods, type of operation and further suggest sites to transfer refuse disposal. Further studies are underway for redeveloping the present site when a new area is available.

The Board of Selectmen has attempted to initiate a course of action to cope with these "thorny" problems and feels further delay in facing the necessary remedies is not only inadvisable, but will prove prohibitive in cost and dangerous to health safety standards if not attended to promptly.

The year of 1963 continued to show new activity on the waterfront with various businesses expanding their activities, bringing additional tax revenue, rental and increased wage benefits to the town. The Union Wharf was blacktopped and the area generally improved. Federal harbor channel dredging studies have been initiated and are currently still in progress. The President's budget includes $20,000.00 for a New Bedford - Fairhaven Harbor navigation study. State Division of Waterways personnel have agreed to cooperatively undertake a dredging program with the town on a 75%-25% basis in areas under local jurisdiction if approved by town meeting. This dredging will provide adequate water to enable sea-faring vessels to use repair facilities and will provide the impetus for further expansion of our waterfront.

Progress continued on Fort Phoenix State Beach under the watchful eye of our alert Representative William Q. MacLean, Jr. The access area on Sconticut Neck is currently underway and will be completed in 1964.

Improved lighting is in evidence throughout the town, with additional improvements planned.

The Highway Department spent one of its busiest years.

The Fire and Police Station Building was hardly underway when a serious steel strike forced an almost complete work stoppage.

Efforts were made to improve conditions at school crossings. New lights have been promised on Route 6 near the East Fairhaven School by the Mass. Department of Public Works and a request for funds to staff uniformed school traffic supervisors is in the warrant.

The Coggeshall Street Bridge by-pass is currently in operation with completion of the new bridge slated for 1964.

The tarball problem has been a disturbing one to everyone. The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers has placed it on a State and

The Coggeshall Street Bridge by-pass is currently in operation with completion of the new bridge slated for 1964.

The tarball problem has been a disturbing one to everyone. The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers has placed it on a State and local level. We have been promised that the Mass. Department of Public Health will continue their efforts and investigations to find the source of this nuisance and help us to find a solution.

Departmental meetings have been frequent throughout the year and active participation and cooperation by the following committees and groups has been evident:

Sanitary Refuse Disposal Committee, Safety Council, Union Wharf Committee, Sewer Committee, Federal, Town and State Relationship Committee, Personnel Board, Chamber of Commerce, etc.

The Chamber of Commerce was reorganized and is currently studying ways to improve the economy of the town.

Long and continuous efforts have been made to secure a bulldozer for Civil Defense purposes. At this time we are quite optimistic about the possibility of obtaining one for a Civil Defense training program.

In closing, the Board of Selectmen appreciates the wholehearted cooperation of all and never ceases to be amazed by the actions, and efforts of the many dedicated citizens of Fairhaven in their individual and collective efforts to improve the town.

Board of Assessors

Fairhaven Water Company

Examination for the Year ended December 31, 1962

LYBRAND, ROSS BROS. & MONTGOMERY

New Bedford, Mass.

February 18, 1963

To the Board of Directors of
Fairhaven Water Company

We have examined the balance sheet of Fairhaven Water Company as at December 31, 1962, and the related income and surplus statement for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances, except in the case of accounts receivable.

We did not consider it practicable to apply the generally accepted auditing procedure of communicating direct with consumers in confirmation of the balances due from them, but we satisfied ourselves by tests of related records.

The accounting system of the company is as prescribed for water companies by the Department of Public Utilities of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and the accompanying statements are in accord with the company books.

In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheet and income and surplus statement present fairly the financial position of Fairhaven Water Company at December 31, 1962, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Board of Health

ANNUAL REPORT 1963

Regular meetings of this Board have been held during 1963. Complaints have been investigated, and nuisances affecting public health in the fields of communicable diseases, sewerage disposal, illegal dumping of debris, on private, as well as public property, have been abated.

Our preventative program has included the following 50 clinics where 8,375 children were inoculated:

6	Diphtheria Clinics	520
1	Salk Polio Clinic	4
13	Type 1 Oral Polio Clinics	2067
14	Type 2 Oral Polio Clinics	3583
14	Type 3 Oral Polio Clinics	2118
2	Small pox Vaccination Clinics	83
50		8375

Five new cases of tuberculosis have been reported, four of which were diagnosed as pulmonary and one as renal. Three of these patients have been hospitalized, two at Norfolk County Tuberculosis Hospital, the other at the Veteran's Hospital. One is still receiving hospital care. A total of 368 visits have been made to these patients and their contacts have been x-rayed and examined. The day rate for hospitalization at Norfolk County Tuberculosis Hospital, is to be increased by the amount of $1.15 a day as of January 1, 1964, which will increase our cost per patient during 1964.

The program for the care of premature infants outlined by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, has been followed. Eleven premature infants were born to Fairhaven residents this year.

The School Dental Clinics have been held twice a week during the school year. Dr. John Moreau resigned as school dentist in June 1963 and Dr. William Xifaras replaced him. Mrs. Eleanor Gonsalves serves as his assistant. The following work has been done:

Fillings	289	Examinations	162
Extractions	82	Cleanings	168
		Treatments	1

The Bristol County Mental Health Clinics provide facilities for psychiatric diagnosis, treatment and consultation, free of charge to residents of Fairhaven — 44 patients were examined and a total of 197 visits were made to this clinic.

The following licenses were issued during the year:

Burial Permits	98	Oleomargarine	31
Methyl Alcohol	8	Milk Dealers	14
Camp	5	Store Milk	40
Day Nursery	3	Ice Cream	3

Communicable Diseases reported during the year:

Chicken Pox	9	Mumps	15
Dog Bites	65	Pneumococcal Meningitis	1
Measles	1	Scarlet Fever	15
German Measles	6	Pulmonary Tuberculosis	4
Infectious Hepatitis	1	Renal Tuberculosis	1

The following have performed their duties effectively:

Samuel C. Barrett, Animal & Milk Inspector

Joseph G. Mello, Collection of garbage

George J. Martin, Burial of Animals

Lawrence B. Maxfield, Sanitary Inspector

Henry Stevens, Slaughter Inspector

New developments and improved present day rules and regulations have increased the work of this department. Much more time and effort is demanded in this organization and execution. The members of the Board are working diligently for improved methods of disposing of rubbish and garbage.

Appreciation is expressed to all who have assisted in carrying out our program.

Respectfully submitted,

DR. EDWARD L. SOARES, Chairman

DR. FILBERT A. SILVEIRA

Board of Health

Public Health Nursing Service

The fundamental purpose of public health nursing is to guide individuals and their families so that they will apply in their daily lives the information that science has developed to help them keep well or get well if they are sick. The nurses give bedside care to sick people and health guidance to people of all ages. They provide nursing care and instruction to mothers before and after the birth of their babies. They inform families of community and state facilities both for the protection of health and care of sickness, and they encourage families to use these facilities intelligently. Every newborn baby is visited by the public health nurse in Fairhaven.

The appropriation from the Town for public health nursing services made possible the following visits during the year 1963:

Maternal and Child Health Guidance	1665 Visits
Tuberculosis	368 Visits
Acute Communicable Diseases	38 Visits
	2071 Visits

Assistance was given at the following clinics held under the supervision of the Board of Health: 6 Diphtheria - Pertussis - Tetanus Immunization Clinics, 1 Salk Polio Clinic, 13 Type 1 Oral Polio Immunization Clinics, 14 Type 2 Oral Polio Immunization Clinics, 14 Type 3 Oral Polio Immunization Clinics, and 2 Small-pox Vaccination Clinics.

Diphtheria - Pertussis - Tetanus Clinics	520 inoculations
Salk Polio Clinic	4 inoculations
Type 1 Oral Polio Clinics	2067 inoculations
Type 2 Oral Polio Clinics	3583 inoculations
Type 3 Oral Polio Clinics	2118 inoculations
Smallpox Vaccination Clinics	83 vaccinations

The nurses started doing Tuberculin Tine Tests on contacts of tuberculosis patients. Five patients with active tuberculosis were admitted. Three of these patients were hospitalized and two were treated at home by their private physicians. All contacts were X-rayed and found to be negative. One patient with suspected tuberculosis was admitted and is under care of a private physician. One patient with inactive tuberculosis was admitted and all inactive tuberculosis patients have been visited during the year.

The nurses made visits to the following patients:

Old Age Assistance	362 Visits
Medical Aid to The Aged	51 Visits
Veterans' Benefits	27 Visits

Shellfish Department

The past year had the largest group of people ever recorded taking Shellfish by both Commercial Fishermen and Residents, family use. An abundance of Quahaugs, mostly Little Necks and Soft Shell Clams, were harvested on the East side of Sconticut Neck. Approximately 12,000 bushels of Quahaugs netting $134,000. Scallops yield 3,800 bushels netted $38,000. Clams taken for family use, 1832 bushels valued at $29,312. Total valuation of Shellfisheries, $201,312. This is considered a good Shellfish year due to high prices.

A total of 630 bushels of Quahaugs were transplanted in 2 areas at the cost of $2,251.96.

JOSEPH FLEURENT
Building Inspector

Highway Department

During 1963 this department has continued the program of seal-coating streets and roads with asphalt cut-backs, having covered 52,800 Square yards. We also resurfaced with bituminous concrete, (Hot Mix), 8,900 Square Yards. In this type of work we are able to cut down the excessive high crowns that exist and place a permanent surface that is good for long periods, thus reducing up-keep.

Under Chap. 782 we placed 20,634 Square Yards of Hot Mix on Main, Sycamore Streets and Harding Road.

By vote of the Town Meeting we performed the following work:

Jarvis Avenue	2220 Square Yards of reconstruction with curbs
No. Walnut St.	1111 Square Yards of reconstruction with curbs
Rogers St.	2047 Square Yards of reconstruction with curbs
Hamlet St.	300 Feet, with 3 catch basins
Holcomb St.	400 Feet, with 5 catch basins
Roy St.	300 Feet, with 5 catch basins
Briercliffe Rd.	1500 Feet, with 10 catch basins
Eddy St.	1452 Feet, with 4 catch basins
Pine Grove	1100 Feet, with 8 catch basins
Grinnel St.	250 Feet, with 2 catch basins

We were unable to install drainage also voted on Harding Road and Felsway because of the delay of securing permits from the Mass. D. P. W. into whose system we need to discharge.

RUBBISH COLLECTION

This department has been unusually trouble-some this year because of the increase in dwellings and the ever increase of combustible material received and the fact that the dump area is practically exhausted. Wherever the dump is located the Town should own a bull-dozer that could also be used in road construction as well as the dump. The practice of (Land Fill) disposal, as has been in operation the last few months, has worked very well in cutting down the costs of handling fires. This method requires the service of a dozer a considerable part of the time.

HENRY T. HOWARD,
Superintendent of Highways

Park Department

The Park Board organized with Mr. Joseph G. Mello as Chairman, Weber R. Torres, Jr. as Vice-Chairman and Secretary and Mr. Lawrence B. Maxfield.

Mr. Maxfield resigned from the Board in June and his resignation was accepted with regret.

The berm was completed around the tennis courts at Cushman Park in time for winter skating and once again we are proud to announce that it was the first skating area to be used in Greater New Bedford in 1963. Both Cushman and Livesey Parks had more skating than any other area. Lights were also installed at Cushman Park for night skating.

The area around the All-Purpose Recreation area at Livesey Park has been planted with trees and this year we hope to have it seeded and completed.

Willow Park was extended to South Street. The old railroad bed has been seeded and has greatly improved this area.

Our summer recreation period of eight weeks was capably handled by a recreation supervisor and three recreation leaders.

West Island might have been a problem if the Life Guard had not volunteered to work seven days. Town meeting did not allow for a second part-time guard and this would mean closing the beach one day per week.

JOSEPH G. MELLO, Chairman

WEBER R. TORRES, JR.,

Sewer and Water Department

The Board of Sewer and Water Commissioners organized with Lawrence B. Maxfield, Chairman, Dudley S. Richards, Vice-Chairman and Charles A. Maxfield Jr., clerk.

During the year thirty-eight new water services and twenty sewer connections were installed, making a total of fifty-eight for the year. There are now approximately 2,316 sewer connections in use, and to date 1,029 water services have been installed in Sconticut Neck.

Approximately eight hundred feet of six inch water pipe was laid in Jameson Street and Nelson Avenue, and the water main in Holiday Drive was extended approximately four hundred feet.

The re-construction of the outfall sewer at the foot of Coggeshall Street was completed.

Due to work done by this department during the year, we were reimbursed in the amount of $25,413.49.

Care of Trees and Moth Control

Tree Department

To safeguard our shade trees in various parts of the Town, all streets throughout the Town have been sprayed as well as a large number on private property. Also, a second spraying and a third spraying in some sections has been given to keep under control the later breeding of beetles.

During the year we have taken down ninety-seven (97) trees and twenty-seven (27) tree stumps (so that the stump chipper could cut them down below street level), trimmed trees, removed dead limbs and elevated the trees. I have planted one hundred (100) trees in various parts of the Town.

The elm trees are dying faster than we can remove them; so, therefore, I am requesting a larger appropriation. Within five (5) years we will lose most of our elms due to Dutch Elm Disease, which at the present time is uncontrollable. Therefore, I recommend an appropriation of Eight Thousand Dollars ($8,000.00) for the year 1964.

Moth Department

During the past year we sprayed all shade trees and removed dead limbs in various parts of the Town and carted and burned brush at the Town Dump.

I recommend an appropriation of Two Thousand Four Hundred Dollars ($2,400.00) for Insect Pest Extermination in 1964.

Civil Defense

The Civil Defense office of the Town of Fairhaven is now a part of the vast network of the Department of Defense at the Federal level. The importance of life-saving throughout the nation is recognized by the Congress of our country. Instructions to local Directors is now the same, nationwide, and we are kept informed of all new developments.

The fast pace of our military expansion and the scientific technology points the need for constant training and evaluation of information.

Our shelter program stocking is on schedule and we now have the High School stocked with emergency water, food and Radiac instruments. We have about 190 spaces available in this building. The only other building scheduled for stocking at this time is Our Lady's Haven where about 144 spaces are available. The Federal Requisitions are all processed and we have received the instruments for this shelter.

These are the only shelter spaces available and approved by the Army Corps of Engineers.

This will point out the severe shortage of shelter spaces in our town. The Director would again urge the inhabitants to provide some form of shielded shelters and make some provisions for protecting themselves and their families.

Valuable information on this protection is available at the Civil Defense Office.

We have also been part of the new Sector 2-A expansion and we now have a Sector Director and staff ready to help us out with problems and we are in a good position to keep up with the current changes and are much closer to the Commonwealth's program. The Town of Fairhaven is grateful for the help and guidance from the Sector 2-A Director during the past year. We hope to continue this work with Sector 2-A.

Fire Department

The Fire Department answered 307 Calls during the year 1963. There were 49 Bell Alarms and 258 Still Alarms. There were 3 Resuscitator Emergency calls during the year. Station #3 and Station #5 are in good condition. Station #2 on Oxford Street is in need of repair. This Station will probably be turned over to the Selectmen when the New Station is completed. The Board is asking for Engine #4 to be replaced this year. Engine #4 was bought in 1932. All other Apparatus is in good working condition. The Fire Prevention Bureau is very active, as more homes are being built. We would like at this time also to thank the Personnel of the Department for their cooperation in such a busy year.

The Superintendent of the Fire Alarm herewith submits his report for 1963.

During the past year Four (4) new Gamewell boxes of the three fold type were added to the Fire Alarm system.

Box 183 Harvard & Highland Ave.
Box 292 Babbit & Hamlet Sts.
Box 432 Laurel & Phoenix Sts.
Box 722 Adams & North Sts.

A new Signal Horn has been purchased for the East Fairhaven Station to replace the Siren. The Fire Alarm system is in very good condition. Considerable work is to be done this year in conjunction with the New Fire Station. The North Fairhaven Fire Alarm circuit in the very near future shall have to be made into Two (2) circuits, as it is becoming too large.

FRANK ROGERS

Superintendent of Fire Alarm

Police Department

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

Gentlemen:

The following are some of the facts concerning police activities in Fairhaven during 1963.

Up to this writing, in January 1964, we have 151 reports of 1963 accidents in which personal injuries were suffered. There were 240 persons who sustained these injuries. In addition, four persons lost their lives on our highways. Over $200.00 damage was reported in each of 47 other accidents.

We received 4155 complaints during the year. These, with other transactions, brought 4290 reports into our files.

The department made 560 traffic checkups. Two hundred seventy-three citations were issued. The Registry of Motor Vehicles notified us of 152 Fairhaven operators' licenses and rights being suspended or revoked and of 10 registration suspensions or revocations.

During the year the department was notified of 387 Class 1 motor vehicle transfers and 566 Class 2 transfers.

We made 120 arrests for out-of-town police. These involved 154 offenses. Three of these actions were against Fairhaven Corporations; 14 were female offenders.

There were 133 arrests for local offenses. August was our biggest month with 21 arrests. One hundred twenty-six were males. Two hundred twenty-four offenses were involved.

Reported value of property reported stolen aggregated $30,234.14 and recoveries added up to $19,980.50. I urge that property owners help us in the future to increase the accuracy of these figures.

The preceding paragraphs indicate that we had more of almost everything this past year.

I need not remind you that the so-called juvenile problem is repeatedly mentioned in various quarters. I urge parents to not only be alert to their responsibilities but, also, to be constantly on the lookout for opportunities to assist all our young people through the difficult transition from childhood to adulthood.

Respectfully yours,

MANUEL A. OLIVERA
Acting Chief of Police

Planning Board

January 9, 1964

At the first meeting of 1963, held February 14, Mr. Victor O. B. Slater was elected chairman and Mr. Kenneth R. Vining, vice-chairman, Mr. James Parkinson, secretary, and Miss Linda Poirier, clerk. New members, Raymond Fleurent and Edward G. Duval, were welcomed. In October, Mrs. Walter Manchester, Jr. was elected clerk in place of Miss Poirier, who is attending college.

The Fairhaven Planning Board held sixteen meetings during 1963. There were approved seventeen sub-divisions, (Planning Board approval under sub-division control law not required) and three sub-division hearings which were approved. Three hearings for signs were approved.

A public hearing was held, at the request of the Board of Selectmen to bar trailers in Fairhaven. The Planning Board approved Article 39 which was defeated in town meeting. The Planning Board is still of the opinion that something should be done to relieve the trailer problem, and will continue to study.

The town voted, on recommendation of the Planning Board, $7,000.00, to be matched with $21,000.00 from the Federal Government, a total of $28,000.00, for a Master Plan. During the year, the Planning Board met with Mr. Blackwell of Atwood and Blackwell and with Mr. James F. Shurtleff of the Economic Development Associates, Inc., Boston, regarding the Master Plan, and with Mr. Tzizik, planning engineer for the Massachusetts Department of Commerce, for advice and information. It was voted to hire the Economic Development Associates, Inc. for the development of the Master Plan. The application was signed on July 3, 1963. The Master Plan is an eighteen month project. On December 27, 1963, word was received from Mr. F. A. Fallon, planning engineer of the Department of Commerce, that our application had been approved and the project would commence in the very near future, and that contracts would be received for signature.

During the year, a visit was made to Middleboro to visit the Housing for the Aged. The Board also attended the fall meeting of Region 6 Massachusetts Federation of Planning Boards in Taunton. Also the fall meeting of the Federation of Planning Boards in Falmouth, and a meeting in New Bedford to view New Bedford's progress of their Master Plan was attended.

During the year meetings were held with the School Building Committee, at which time, the Board suggested an improvement to the entrance and exits at the proposed Sconticut Neck Elementary School. The Board also suggested that care be taken to eliminate any drainage problem existing at the Junior High School, and approved the building plans for both the Junior High School and the Sconticut Neck Elementary School. At the annual town meeting, the Planning Board recommended, and it was adopted, that Article 52 relating to the Sconticut Neck School site be amended so that at the extreme westerly end of the proposed site, sufficient land be set aside for a street, if and when one is contemplated running north and south, making a second road to Sconticut Neck.

Several meetings were held during the year with the Town, State and Federal Relationship Committee, the Water Resources Committee, the Sanitary Disposal Committee, the Fairhaven Housing Authority, the Sewer Committee, and the Fire and Police Station Committee, where plans for the station were approved. The Planning Board was very much disturbed at the action of the Fairhaven School Committee on night football in the high school stadium, as, in our opinion, this was a flagrant violation of the zoning by-laws, and it does not have a good impact on the town for an elective body such as the School Committee to encourage a violation of the town's zoning by-laws. When the Planning Board met with the student body of the high school, one of the topics discussed was enforcement of the zoning by-laws.

Mr. Milton Delano was asked to make a sketch view of Fairhaven's Waterfront north of the New Bedford-Fairhaven bridge showing potential use of this area. The Planning Board is appreciative of Representative William Q. MacLean in updating the Board regarding our waterfront and the need of dredging so that Fairhaven's potential of the waterfront can be realized. Fairhaven's waterfront is Fairhaven's lifeline and Fairhaven's future is dependent on this needed dredging.

The Planning Board suggested to the Federation of Planning Boards that a law be passed making it mandatory for the Massachusetts Department of Public Works to submit to the Selectmen and Planning Boards of a town, tentative plans for new roads or extensions before any plans are made.

Once again, in closing, the Fairhaven Planning Board follows its usual procedure in urging active participation and interest in town affairs, service on boards and committees, and awareness of the problems in the community.

The Planning Board, in its advisory capacity, elected by the voters, and governed by statute of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, always stands ready to aid and assist administrative and enforcing agencies of the town. Complete cooperation of all concerned is absolutely necessary if Fairhaven is to progress.

Public Assistance

A comparison of the case loads of the various categories of public assistance at the beginning and end of the year 1963 is as follows:

	Jan. 1, 1963	Dec. 31, 1963
Old Age Assistance	164	153
Medical Assistance for the Aged	50	66
Aid to Dependent Children	48	45
Disability Assistance	23	24
General Relief	14	10
	299	298

Applications approved for aid 93, applications denied 16.

The total amount expended for all aid furnished and for administrative salaries was $420,791.88. The Town was reimbursed for 87½% of this amount by the Federal Government, the Commonwealth and Other Communities, making the net cost to the local taxpayer $52,692.05 or 12½%.

The Town also received $6,005.76 in Recoveries from individuals who had received General Relief, Disability Assistance and Old Age Assistance.

Legislation affecting grants in aid was an increase of 5.1% cost of living budgetary adjustment and also, for Old Age Assistance only, an increase of $1.00 per month for leisure time activity.

Chapter 651 of the Acts of 1963 increased exemptions of single children in Old Age Assistance and Medical Assistance for the Aged, making it mandatory for the Town to increase the payment to the parent.

Medical care costs totalled $146,144.76 for the following:

Hospitalization	$25,951.50
Nursing Homes	74,531.93
Clinic care	1,566.03
Medication	33,212.39
Physicians	7,216.00
Dentistry	1,896.00
Eyeglasses	663.25
Other medical	1,107.66

In making up the budgets for 1964 we have anticipated the effect of repeal of legal settlement in Old Age Assistance and General Relief under Chapter 566, Acts of 1963 and Chapter 726 respectively. Effective January 1, 1964 in General Relief the Town will be reimbursed by the Commonwealth 20% of all aid furnished and in Old Age Assistance 70% of the amount remaining after the Federal reimbursement

The Millicent Library

LIBRARY EXPLOSION

Utilization of empty window sills and storage closets is the fate of all librarians who have yet to realize proposed building expansion.

In spite of weeding and rearrangement of furniture, all libraries are crowded to the front doors because of additional patronage which occasions a demand for more books and services.

The library explosion has been felt very keenly here at home. Only through the kindness of Beatrice Mosgrove, whose close associations with this library prompted her to reward it so generously in her will, is the library able to afford the costly additions and repairs that were instituted during the year.

A new circulation desk that will be serviceable to patrons and staff is promised for early in January, 1964. New book cases in the center aisle have provided room for teen corner expansion and for an overflow of adult fiction. Book cases under the stained glass window in the foyer provide additional space in this new books section. Now, browsing can be done away from the circulation and reference areas.

An additional catalog case was purchased to ease a tightly packed card catalog.

The general appearance and greater comfort to users of the adult Reading Room has undergone a transformation with the addition of pieces of furniture sent to the library from New York by our trustee Mr. Henry Rogers Benjamin. Among the collection was a magnificent mahogany desk which is now in the Librarian's Office.

New concrete sidewalks and extensive roof repairs were made possible because of our legacy.

The Trustees and Librarian realize that these innovations will temporarily solve some of the space problems and that for any future thinking an addition is the only answer. A larger children's room with space for the young adults at one end; a garage for the bookmobile; heat in the basement so that books could be safely stored there and programs could be held in the auditorium during the winter as well as during the summer. Such improvements would provide for all future growth.

ADDITIONAL GIFTS

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Peralta-Ramos have donated to the library a collection of gold and silver jewelry of intrinsic value and unusual design. Mr. Peralta-Ramos' mother, Millicent Rogers, niece of the Henry Rogers' Millicent for whom the library was named, designed and partially made these pieces the last few years she lived. Her inspiration came from the Indian culture she admired so much in her home in Taos, New Mexico. It was here in Taos that her son recently built in her memory a museum which houses her priceless collection of Indian objects and other jewelry executed by her. Part of our collection can be viewed in the Trustees' Room.

Mr. and Mrs. Peralta-Ramos also donated some Rogers scrap-books for the Rogers collection along with two volumes of whaling material—one a log book of H. C. Ship Herefordshire, third voyage, 1818-1820 and the other papers and accounts of the whaling ships "Jasper" and "Navigator" 1832-1855. These two items were especially marked for public use; and because whaling enthusiasts can best avail themselves of material of this nature in the New Bedford Free Public Library's Melville Room, the Trustees decided to lend the two volumes to be used in that collection.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rogers Benjamin have provided more material for the Rogers Room; Mr. William Rogers Coe donated several choice books; many library borrowers also have given interesting and valuable volumes — Mrs. Henry H. Saunderson, for example, has sent the library some of her husband's writings as well as volumes from her famous Browning collection.

The Exchange Club of New Bedford presented the library with a beautiful flag and standard to be used inside the building. This now occupies a prominent place in the foyer.

LIBRARY USE

1,803 borrowers registered during the year; 1,095 adults and 708 juveniles, making a total of 5,681 registered or 39% of the population. 219 non-residents were added, making a total of 789 out of town borrowers registered at the library — 13 % of the total of all library users. 852 new patrons were welcomed. 117,328 books, magazines, records, pictures and pamphlets were circulated in 1963. The bookmobile issued 25,364 items making up 21% of our total circulation.

2,653 volumes were added and 1,294 withdrawn, making a total of 56,698 in the collection.

2,641 books were cataloged, 1,988 adult and 653 juvenile. 255 new titles were added to the teen collection.

A survey was made to determine how many patrons used the library from eight to nine p. m. The majority of serious borrowers came to the library before eight o'clock. On the strength of this conclusion, the Trustees voted to close the library Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings at eight instead of nine o'clock.

The Millicent Library entertained visitors on two occasions — Sunday, August 11, the New Bedford Summer Festival featured a tour of historic buildings in the greater New Bedford area and our library was chosen as a building to be visited; and on October 5 the Saturday Club toured the library and heard a talk on "Rogers Reminiscences" by the Librarian.

CHILDREN'S PROGRAM

The emphasis on reading evidenced in the schools and the programs planned by the library has made Fairhaven children well aware of books.

Films and story hours planned around familiar book themes is the aim of the library staff. Johnny Sisson, the popular puppeteer drew 492 youngsters to see an old fairy tale acted out during National Library Week. The summer film program scheduled for eight Wednesday mornings during the summer attracted 2,012 children, or an average of 252 a week.

During Book Week some of the new children's books were brought to the schools by the Librarian; and at the Library a show just for fun was planned. 560 children jammed in to watch Joseph Burke, Jr. perform some magic tricks.

TRUSTEES AND STAFF

Mrs. Charles J. Lewin was elected a Trustee to replace Mabel L. Potter. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rogers Benjamin attended the June meeting of the Board.

Mrs. Evelyn McNeil resigned in December and Mrs. Beverly Robinson was hired as Children's Librarian.

Members of the staff attended meetings of the New England Library Association, The Massachusetts Library Association, The Old Dartmouth Library Club and the Cape Cod Library Club. A workshop on weeding was conducted by the Division of Library Extension in Padanaram, and three members of the library staff participated.

The Librarian continued her part in the Regional Library planning for eastern Massachusetts. She was asked to speak to thirteen different groups about new books and about the uses and abuses of the library.

CONCLUSION

Material gains measure some degree of accomplishment; and with the many acquisitions and higher circulation figures the library feels an acknowledged sense of pride.

It will always be the aim of the Board and staff, however, to maintain the dignity with which Mr. Rogers endowed this institution as equal in importance to its educational role in community life.

Respectfully submitted,
RITA E. STEELE

NO-SCHOOL SIGNAL

7:00 A. M. Indicates no school for all day.*

11:30 A. M. Indicates no afternoon sessions for Grades 1-8.

* School will be held in the High School on all days regardless of weather conditions unless special announcement is made over the radio stations WBSM and WNBH. Parents are urged to use their own judgment in sending students to school when the weather is inclement.

It is the policy of the School Committee to order the no-school signal only in the most severe weather conditions or when road conditions are such as to make transportation extremely hazardous or impassable with respect particularly to Grades 1-8.

Annual Report of the School Committee

To the Citizens of Fairhaven:

The primary purpose and responsibility of any school committee is to act as a liaison body between the general public and the professional and civil service staff of the school system. The school committee serves as a policy-making body of the public schools, charged by law with certain responsibilities for the adoption of policy and regulations to enable the school administration to operate the school system. A school committee serves two important functions in the exercise of their responsibilities. They, first, establish a budget for the operation of the schools, consistent with progressive and modern educational practice and supervise the expenditure of the funds allotted within the budget as provided for under the general laws of the Commonwealth. Secondly, the school committee is charged with the responsibility of employing and supervising the activities of an administrative, supervisory, and professional staff.

History, tradition, and experience illustrate that discerning school committees must of necessity direct their attention to their broad policy-making responsibilities as charged by the General Laws. Effective policies provide good continuity of school committee leadership from election to election as the membership of a committee inevitably changes. Discriminating members of school committees contribute directly to the effectual issues of an educational system, when they confine themselves primarily to policy and to the evaluation of the effectiveness of their policies, thereby providing for the development of a continuous school-system personality. Furthermore, the establishment of effective policies provide operating guide-lines for capable administration for many years after their adoption. Also, effective policies release school committees from problems of administration, allowing time within school committee meetings for the study of budgets, curriculum, staff organization, and other significant broad fields of school committee interests, which are essential to competently and efficiently operated school systems.

PROBLEMS OF CONCERN

The school committee has found themselves in the midst of many problems throughout the year, most of which were a part of the general problems of the community. It became concerned along with the rest of the community with the increasing hazards of school-children crossing busy traffic arteries with the resulting concern for the safety of these children. The school committee was frustrated, as were other town bodies, in trying to find an immediate solution to this problem. The School Committee feels strongly that funds must be provided within the 1964 appropriations for the establishment of a program of school crossing supervision, under the control of the Police Department, in order that the hazards to school children may be kept as far as possible to a minimum.

The attention that has been focused by this community upon the proper channeling of youth activity in out-of-school time has become, due to an unfortunate occurrence at the High School, a problem of us all, and particularly of your School Committee. The School Committee has been increasingly more conscious of the possible effects of improperly channeled juvenile activity, in the past few years, which has been evidenced by an increased amount of vandalism in the area of school buildings, as well as the amount of increased time required by the staff in working out youth problems with the various social agencies who are concerned. The problem is not a problem peculiar to the town of Fairhaven, as it is widely felt throughout the whole nation. This problem appears to be a sign of the times with which all people, parents as well as educators, must be concerned. The increasing speed of everyday life for most of the population, the easy availability through television of expensive entertainment (some of which may be of questionable moral nature), the desire on the part of many parents to provide for their children "the things that I did not receive as a child", as well as the laxity of us all in providing channels of creative and well directed activity of all young people, has resulted in all of us being concerned with the solutions to these problems. The establishments of new programs of athletic activity, the inclusion with the school curriculum of more creative and interesting curricular programs, and the establishment within the minds of young people of respect for law, order and direction to human lives, are all a part of the solution to these problems, toward which we must all bend our untiring efforts.

Your School Committee has held 32 meetings during this calendar year. Notices of these meetings were posted at the Town Hall, and we have been pleased to hold open meetings at which interested members of the public were invited and encouraged to attend. If for any reason, a citizen or group of citizens wish to be heard or wish to consult with the School Committee, the School Committee would be very happy to entertain their discussion and they request only that a notification be given the Superintendent of Schools at least five days prior to an intended visit, in order that the matter to be discussed may be included upon the School Committee agenda.

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT AND FACILITIES

The enrollment of all schools increased by 121 pupils between October 1, 1962 and October 1, 1963. Of these, there was an increase of 61 pupils in the elementary schools, 22 pupils in the Junior High School and 38 pupils in the Senior High School. The most significant area of increase was in the East Fairhaven School where there was a total increase of 23 pupils during this year's span, which has further increased by 17 additional since October 1. This school is becoming increasingly more crowded, with the resulting inability to provide the amount of individual attention to each pupil's needs, as it has been our custom to provide. The need for the erection of the new school at Sconticut Neck is an undisputed fact, as we could have easily made use of this facility during this present school year and it appears that we must wait at least for another school year before this building is completed.

We are gratified that the addition to the Junior High School is now under way, with expected completion by September of 1964. The completion of this structure will allow relief from the crowded conditions at the Senior High School and provide the opportunity for expanding curriculum offerings and diversification of program.

CONCLUSION

We would like to express our appreciation to the entire staff, both professional and civil service for the fine cooperation and dedicated service of its members to the educational needs of children. We would call your attention to the report of the Superintendent of Schools and other staff members, which are included herewith as a part of the annual report of the Fairhaven Public Schools.

STAFF VACANCIES

The problem of filling teacher vacancies this year has been complicated by the number of vacancies, which we have been required to fill. This year we have been required to fill twenty-seven positions and we feel that we have been fortunate in securing personnel of exceptionally high caliber. We have had some difficulties in finding qualified teachers in such fields as lower elementary schools, industrial arts, homemaking, mathematics and science, but we have found that the problem of finding teachers has been a great deal less difficult in the past two years due to the fact that we have been able to offer competitive beginning salaries, personnel policies and working conditions. Our teachers' pay schedule for the past two years has been equal to the pay schedules of the surrounding communities, and as a consequent result we have been able to be more selective in our appointments than would have been otherwise the case. With very few exceptions, our group of new teachers appears to be excellent material, well trained and professionally prepared to do the job for which they have been selected. Fairhaven is fortunate indeed to have on its staff 57 teachers on maximum salary, who have been in teaching for over ten years. The majority of these teachers have had their entire experience within the Fairhaven School system. We point with pride to these personnel as the backbone of our school system, without which we would be unable to provide the high quality programs that we have provided to date.

CURRICULUM AND STAFF ORGANIZATION

This has been another in a series of years in which we have been concerned with the up-dating and revision of curriculum fields. We have increased our emphasis this year on both elementary and secondary levels in the field of reading and the language arts. The application of the latest methods in both remedial and developmental reading has been fostered with significant improvement in many areas of reading skills, as exhibited in the results of our standardized testing. The increased emphasis, on all levels for original composition research, and other methods, which provide opportunities for increased individual development in language arts areas, should eventually exhibit itself in the increased ability of more students to think well and to express themselves both written and verbally in an organized treatment of all subject matter with which they may deal.

The elementary schools have extended the program of handwriting under the Rinehart Functional Handwriting System, which should bring back the ability of individuals to write with a closer approximation of the clear fluid, classical type of writing which was in vogue, when most of us were learning to write.

Improvements in the areas of science and social studies in both elementary and secondary schools have been going forward with increasing rapidity. The adoption of a new text in elementary science has obviated the necessity for change in the secondary schools to provide a more advanced type of science, since increasingly, the elementary school student has been exposed to areas of science which were formerly taught in the Junior and Senior High Schools. In the expansion of courses in sciences to provide for offerings to advanced groups of PSSC physics, CBA chemistry, and new programs of biology, we are providing for greater individual experimentation in science and individual development of personal interests in specific areas.

The social sciences have increased their offerings by providing materials more nearly aimed at the individual reading level of students thereby making their studies more attractive and more self-satisfying. Included in new curriculum areas of study are the history and development of Latin America, South America, and Asian countries, more effective contrasts in the study of Communism, contrasting our way of life with that of our Communist protagonists.

The emphasis intended by the School Building Committee, toward the erection of new facilities for expansion of the industrial arts department, has stimulated the development of new units of curriculum offerings particularly in the area of metals. Unit offerings in welding, wrought iron, bar metal work, machine lathe work, as well as sheet metal, are among the significant expansions, which the industrial arts program will feature with the increase in facilities. We are attempting throughout this expansion to provide areas of greater interest to our students with the hope that we will be able to keep students in school longer and provide them with skills and knowledges which they will find useful and saleable to a prospective employer.

The problem of school drop outs is an increasingly more complex and difficult problem as time goes on, and it is a problem of national concern as well as local concern. We have felt that many students would stay in their schools for a longer period of time, if we provided more attractive programs, of which the students themselves could see the importance and in which they would exhibit an interest. Students on the levels of lower academic achievement must have some area in which they can achieve their highest potential and perhaps exceed the ability of their more gifted classmates in areas other than the academic.

FINANCIAL SUPPORT OF EDUCATION

As I mentioned in my last annual report, there is an increasing need for increased State and/or Federal support for local education. The General Court, in its wisdom, has seen fit, repeatedly, to legislate salaries, curriculum areas, and ancillary services, which provides additional financial burdens upon the town, which has only the property tax base from which to secure monies. The increased amount of home building, which each year is adding over 100 extra pupils to our school system, is creating a severe financial problem to the town, which I feel cannot help but get worse as time goes on. It is obvious, or it should be, that as you build more and more homes, you get more and more children. As a result, you are also faced with the need for additional school housing, teachers, supplies, etc., which of course, means that you must spend increased amounts of money for your public schools. This seems to be very difficult for many people to understand — either that, or it is a straight refusal to attempt to understand the situation. Increased enrollments, expansion of school plant, and the rising costs of each commodity that we purchase, as well as the increased cost of salaries, each year adds to the problem of providing for an adequate educational system for our children.

The local property tax base is insufficient to adequately meet the demands of a community where the majority of these taxes must come from home owners rather than from industry or summer residents. The property tax as it exceeds $100.00, becomes more and more confiscatory in its character and thereby creates increasing resentment on the part of many members of the public we must serve, since the public schools expend more than half of the tax monies raised.

Generally speaking, the rapidly expanding school enrollments have an effect upon the organization of the school system. In our case, here in Fairhaven, the change will be to a 6-3-3 system in September of next year. The removal of the ninth grade from the Senior High School by the expansion of twenty additional rooms at the Junior High School, will provide for a greatly, diversified program of education within our schools, but will add an increased burden upon the taxpayer from the point of view of additional maintenance, as well as additional personnel needed to staff these facilities. We must continue to pursue a course of education, which keeps the pupil-teacher ratio below 30 to 1, in order to provide an adequate educational effort.

ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF

As I have many times indicated in my previous reports, the increasing amount of administrative detail, paper work, and routine office chores, make it increasingly more difficult for me as your Superintendent of Schools, to increase the efficiency with which this office carries out the responsibilities entrusted to me. In addition to my normal duties as Superintendent, I am now serving as the Secretary to the Building Committee and as the purchasing agent for this committee in the equipping and building of two new school facilities. The duties of building maintenance, purchasing, financial and business matters, greatly exceeds in time, the percentage of concentration which I should be spending, with the consequent result that I am finding myself neglecting those areas for which I am primarily responsible and for which I have primarily been trained. I refer to the primary duty of the Superintendent of Schools, to be the chief instructional leader within the school system. I feel that I should spend in excess of fifty percent of my time in instructional leadership and supervision. At the present time, I am able to spend less than twenty-five percent in those areas for which I have the specific primary responsibility. I strongly recommend to the School Committee and to the town the acquisition of an administrative assistant in this department, to handle the more routine details of school administration, particularly in these areas of business, budgeting, building, grounds, maintenance and routine reports, which could be handled by a person with less experience and responsibility, under my direction. These duties are not of a clerical nature, as I have pointed out many times and, therefore, could not be delegated to clerical personnel. They could be handled, however, by a person with a background in business administration or preferably with a background in both business administration and public school teaching. Many of the areas of competency would be increased as time goes on by training on the job, in actual experience. It is not my intent to have a position created as an assistant superintendent, but an administrative assistant, to cut down on the volume of paper work and routine decisions which I act on personally.

CONCLUSION

The reports of the Principals of the High School and the Junior High School, Coordinator of Elementary Education, the School Nurse and Attendance Supervisor, which are incorporated in this school report, point out, in a great deal more detail, some of the other areas of strengths and weaknesses, which should be brought to your attention as citizens of the town of Fairhaven. I sincerely appreciate the fine cooperation shown me by the members of the School Committee, and the able staff of the school system, which have greatly aided me in trying to provide a program of education of which we can be justly proud. We are all proud of the schools that we have in the town for which we provide and we are equally proud of the professional ability with which the staff has been able to handle the problems of educating our youth. It would be impossible for me to give specific credit to those persons who have been responsible in any way for the improvement of education within Fairhaven schools. Suffice it to say, that without their help, support, and encouragement, my administration of your schools would have been impossible and poorly done. I am extremely grateful to them for this support and fine dedication to duty.

Respectfully submitted,

LYNWOOD P. HARRIMAN

Superintendent of Schools

Report of the High School Principal

To The Superintendent of Schools:

I submit herewith my fifth annual report as Principal of Fairhaven High School.

The past year, 1963, was one of growth and change. The student population enrolled in the four classes of the high school reached a new peak. The demand for classroom space increased proportionately. The demand for more variety and new approaches in course offerings to satisfy the needs of an increasingly complex student body became more acute. In short, 1963 was a year in which it became increasingly clear that an educational program for today cannot be based entirely on the programs of other years. We hope that this report will reflect some of this change.

On June 12, 1963, Mr. George R. Graves, Chairman of the Fairhaven School Committee, presented diplomas to 137 Seniors. The feature of the graduation program was the presentation of a panel discussion under the direction of Mrs. Paul L. Knipe, Head of the English Department. The topic, "Homes for the Future" dealt with the importance of the American Home in the development of a strong citizenry.

During the graduation program, the Class of 1963 gave to the School the sum of three hundred dollars to be used to add to the landscaping design of the school grounds begun by the Class of 1962.

The Guidance Department reports that forty-four per cent of the Class of 1963 have continued their formal educational program in some thirty-six different institutions. Over half of those going on to school are enrolled in programs leading to the bachelor's degree. Forty-eight per cent of the class are employed in forty-three local businesses and industries. Approximately six per cent have entered the armed services.

A detailed analysis of the work undertaken in each of the various department of the High School is beyond the scope of this report. In general, it may be said that the staff within the departments is alert to the changing patterns of offerings on the secondary level and is instituting change whenever it is feasible to do so.

Increased enrollment in the Business Department necessitated the hiring of an additional teacher in September. This increase is due, in part, to the expanding opportunities for job placement in this field. To provide adequate business training the courses of study are being revised continually, the most recent change being the addition of a unit on data processing. Increased emphasis is also placed on the development of closer relationships between the school and the business community.

In the English Department the pace of written composition has been stepped up. In the top level English classes a great deal of adult writing is being done by the pupils with the stress placed on original thinking. At the same time, the program is being adopted in other classes where the level of ability is lower. Here, the assignments in literature and composition are modified and simplified. It is an ever increasing task of the English Department to provide adequate instruction at all levels in this most fundamental subject. It should be noted that this department furnished the leadership for the development of an opening exercise program necessitated by the banning of Bible reading. In addition, this department must be credited for the high caliber of a most impressive memorial assembly for the late President Kennedy.

Training in reading is closely allied to instruction in all fields, but particularly to that in English. The non-reader, the poor reader, and the reader with physical disabilities are all at a serious disadvantage, especially at the secondary level. At present, we are able to devote three days per week to reading instruction, but this is far from enough. Two days are given over to helping able readers develop their skills further. One day is given to remedial work for those who have reached high school without the ability to read adequately. It is true we are thus able to make some progress, but it is equally true that this important area needs continued and increased attention.

Our program in Industrial Arts is showing signs of a healthy growth. An additional shop teacher was added to the staff in September so that work in metals became a reality for the first time in many years. The improved quality of work produced in several areas included in Industrial Arts has brought about a satisfying change in the attitude of many non-academic pupils.

The Foreign Language Department includes instruction in French, Latin, and Spanish. This year French IV was offered for the first time, thus enabling some pupils to study the language for five years. With increased emphasis on the listen-speak method of instruction, there is being developed a high degree of proficiency in pupil ability to converse. Simultaneous instruction in literature provides balance to the program. Although the audio-lingual approach is practised to a lesser degree in Latin and Spanish, the stress on literature in these courses gives the pupil a solid background for future work in these or related areas.

At Fairhaven High School, the Mathematics Department has been a leader in adapting newer methods and concepts in the teaching of this subject. The program in the so-called modern mathematics now extends down from the Senior year to the seventh grade level in the Junior High School. General Mathematics is available to those whose future needs or present abilities call for a less vigorous course. By adjusting the classes in ability it has been possible to provide suitable mathematics instruction at every level.

In Physical Education stress has been placed on the development of boy and girls, who are physically fit. All pupils in the first three years of high school participate in some form of physical training. The organization of an intramural sports program would provide for additional activity for those who are not members of varsity interscholastic teams. Although the school athletic team did not win any league championships the boys and girls performed well. Individual performances worthy of note were those of Alan Patenaud, who won the Class D indoor 1000 and outdoor Half-Mile Championship and of John Wojick who won the Class D Outdoor.

There is wide-spread interest in science among the upper-classmen, particularly in Chemistry where the enrollment classes include an intensive course more difficult than offered in previous years. It is hoped that a course in PSSC Physics will be offered in 1964. The faculty is now preparing for this by attending a special evening course. Consideration is being given to the installation of a new Biology laboratory that will provide for greater laboratory activity. The Science Department as a whole is still working on a correlated program for grades seven through twelve.

The Social Studies Department has been preparing courses of study that will provide for a continuity of program suggested by the Evaluation Committee in 1962. This has involved the elimination of overlapping material and a general tightening of demands on the pupil. The general picture in Social Studies is one of increased scope and difficulty. To provide also for the non-reader, the department has worked cooperatively with the Reading Supervisor in overcoming reading problems in one World History class. The combination of high interest material and easy vocabulary has appealed to many pupils, who have been able to make progress that might have been impossible otherwise.

The Music Department including both the vocal and instrumental groups has expanded its offerings during the year. The enrollment in vocal music has increased from 30 to 100 pupils. In addition, both groups have worked in combined fashion to present several fine concerts including a new venture at Christmas. During the Spring, the band exchanged programs with the Franklin, New Hampshire High School. If the schedule permitted, there is little doubt that the music groups would include many more young people. The quality of those now performing is emphasized by the selections of several pupils for the All-State Concert.

The Fairhaven High School Library continues to grow in the number of books available. During 1963, some 350 volumes were added, but the recommended ideal of ten books per pupil has not yet been reached. Approximately, one half of the student body use the library regularly. It is hoped that this number will increase as facilities are expanded. It should be noted that the physical limits of the present library will restrict expansion very shortly.

Once again, Fairhaven has two students who achieved the status of semi-finalists in the National Merit Scholarship Examination. They are Edward Lefkowicz and Catherine Wershey. These young people deserve commendation for their achievement. In November, Edward B. Locke was selected to attend a meeting on the use of atomic energy in Chicago.

There is one problem that Fairhaven High School shares with almost every other secondary school in the country. That problem is one of treating in an adequate way the diverse needs of an increasing school population. A satisfactory program must give equal attention to the high-ability and the low-ability pupil without neglecting the pupil who is considered to be average. The first step toward achieving such a program is the development of courses of study geared to the entire range of abilities. This is a task that requires concerted, united staff effort. This can be accomplished best during the summer vacation. It is, therefore, recommended that consideration be given to providing funds for a four-week full-time summer workshop in which selected staff members can develop the materials necessary to do the job that is needed.

In conclusion, I should like to commend the faculty and staff of the High School experienced and dedicated, they are an asset to the entire community. To them, to Mr. Harriman, and to the School Committee I express my gratitude for their support in a job that becomes more complex each year.

Report of the Junior High School Principal

To the Superintendent of Schools:

I present herewith my sixth annual report as Principal of Fairhaven Junior High School.

Enrollment, again, seems to be our major problem with a total of 478 pupils which exceeds the predicted figures. The increase in transfer pupils throughout the year suggests the need for further study of this condition. Class size is climbing toward thirty-five at a time when fewer pupils per teacher are vital as a deterrent to mass production. Research indicates that effective improvement of pupils' weaknesses calls for more individual attention on the part of the instructor. This means smaller classes. Our ultimate goal is individual programming when adequate staff is available.

The continued development of basic reading skills is still the most critical need in the Junior High School. Miss Margaret Maughan, our secondary reading supervisor, is able to teach for us, two days a week, only. We need a full-time reading specialist. Some progress has been made by reducing the social studies program and increasing the number of weekly language arts periods to six for all but three classes. This allows more time for teaching reading skills and spelling, in particular.

Other areas of development which mark some progress are: the testing and revising of new courses of study in science, geography and practical arts; extension of modern mathematics to three classes each in grades seven and eight; introduction of conversational French into one seventh grade division, thus increasing to five the number of classes with hope for future expansion as we add staff; and the added opportunities of selection of extra curricular activities, particularly intramurals, after school. A team of English and history teachers is doing research on cooperative instruction in these subjects. Our library is in greater demand for study before and after school. Respect for culture is on the increase because of unusual opportunities in art and music. The audio visual department is becoming a valuable aid to many teachers because there are more available materials and equipment to enrich and more clearly interpret that which is being taught. The physical fitness program is helping more of our young people. Careful administration and records of the national physical fitness program, now in its third year, indicate a gradual and progressive raising of health standards among our young people. Many parents are visiting our school to consult with counselors and teachers, and our Parent-Teachers' Association is becoming more active preparing and attending programs to better understand what the Junior High is trying to do for Fairhaven youth.

This improvement and enrichment of curriculum must be attributed, not only to the good leadership of department chairmen, but also to interested Junior High School teachers, who have respect for education, interest in young people and loyalty to our school.

With the completion of this report, Fairhaven Junior High School prepares to bring to a close the first episode of its history — six happy years as a two grade school. We now turn our thoughts to the challenge of the expansion of our building and the addition of grade nine which must assume student leadership in a necessarily expanded program in September, 1964. We, the faculty, eagerly face this opportunity to develop a broader education at the Junior High School level, hoping that the results may better serve our community.

Respectfully submitted,

ELIZABETH I. HASTINGS,

Principal

Report of the Elementary Coordinator

To the Superintendent of Schools, School Committee, and the Citizens of Fairhaven:

I submit my sixth annual report on the developments in our regular school program for the year 1963.

The 1963-64 school year began with a large number of teachers needing special supervisory assistance. Due to the teacher turnover, 29% of the schools' 55 elementary teachers needed help. Supervision in reading, spelling and language has been maintained. Teachers have been given assistance and suggestions where and when needed. The phonics program has been carefully guided for application in both reading and spelling. Our faculty members have been most cooperative in working toward the basic goals in the language arts and are to be commended for their fine efforts.

In addition to the number of changes in the teaching personnel, there was a change in the principalship of the Rogers School. Mr. James S. Francis was hired as principal of the Rogers School due to the retirement of Mrs. Ruth B. Wilbur.

Our school libraries are growing but there is still much need to expand to meet the needs of modern educational requirements. Our parent-librarians have given tirelessly of their time and effort to keep the school libraries in working order. In November, Mr. Charles W. Adams, State Supervisor of Elementary Libraries, visited all of our schools. We are waiting for his summary of recommendation for the Fairhaven elementary libraries.

Our staff have been working to improve our spelling program in the elementary grades. During the past year, we have tried the Harper & Row system of spelling in several of our classes and have found it valuable. It is a program which completely relates to our phonics system and teaches the child "how" to spell rather than injecting numerous lists of words to be learned by rote. All classes have been divided into groups as we feel it as important to meet individual needs in spelling as in reading. We are now working on a program whereby the lessons can be taped and used occasionally with one group while the teacher is working with another. Tapes are of great value in developing listening power and ability to follow directions as well as releasing the teacher to meet the needs of those who need personal assistance.

The science program is being well coordinated under Mr. Victor Brunette's supervision. After several meetings and a great deal of independent study, the Science Committee selected a new textbook — Harper & Row's Today's Basic Science, which has been adopted by the School Committee. The committee is still continuing to work on a course of study.

The Audio-Visual Department has expanded and our staff is constantly using more and more of our equipment. Many of our teachers have taken a course in audio-visual methods or have been instructed by the audio-visual supervisor. Through the use of such media, wisely selected and intelligently used, a bridge between learning through direct experience and the abstract manipulation of words provides a rich and meaningful background for our students.

Much more emphasis has been placed on the need of a stronger map and globe program in the primary grades. The third grade students are now being introduced to this program. A workshop, under the direction of Mr. Hugh Blanchard, Rand McNally consultant, instructed teachers in some of the techniques necessary to implement this program.

All children in grades 2-6 are receiving training in the Rinehart Method of Handwriting. Teachers are meeting once a month to receive correct instruction in handwriting by Mr. Child, instructor for this system. Classroom visitations are made whereby both teacher and pupil's work is evaluated. I am sure that parents, who attended our open house meeting during Education Week and heard Mr. Child speak on this subject, are aware of the importance of proper penmanship.

In May and early in September, before the beginning of school, all of our entering 242 first grade pupils were given a readiness test. In January, 1964, a pre-primary program will be started at the Oxford School for all children who will have reached their 7th birthday before the end of the school year, and who were excluded from our regular first grade program due to lack of maturity. This group will be given a strong readiness program, followed by careful evaluation of their achievement to determine the value of such a class. In last year's report I stated my reasons for such a program because I feel that this is the first step toward establishing kindergartens in Fairhaven.

In January, 1964, we are starting an in-service course of instruction in the modern math program which will be given for all elementary teachers, grades 1-6. In grades 1 and 2, we are now using a text that introduces the beginning concepts of modern math. There has been a close relationship between the sixth grade teachers and the junior high school in this program, and this will continue in our in-service course. This type of instruction should make a much smoother transition for all 6th grade pupils going into the junior high school.

Two pioneering programs were started this fall — one for all interested first grade parents who received detailed information about our first grade curriculum. Instruction in the phonovisual method was demonstrated and many suggestions were given on how the parents could help their children at home. The other program established close working ties between the Fairhaven Elementary School System and the private kindergarten teachers. At our first meeting, the reading program was explained. Other meetings will be held during the year to discuss the many phases of our curriculum. Such public service should result in better education for our children.

My greatest concern for the next school year is the growth of population in the East Fairhaven area. I had hoped that by September, 1964 we could expect the new school on Sconticut Neck to be completed. However, due to the high cost of construction and the need for further study, it appears now that we cannot look forward to this school opening until September, 1965. In order to give every child in this area the best education possible, and to avoid a platoon system, we plan to use every available space possible at the East Fairhaven School to provide a sound educational program. An estimated enrollment of 450 pupils is expected and the use of the Teachers' dining room, the Teachers' room and the stage, as well as parts of the cafeteria, will be utilized for special classrooms.

Mr. John Schomer, State Supervisor of Elementary Education, visited our schools this fall and was very much impressed with the education that the Fairhaven children are receiving. He was especially interested in some of the grouping and departmental work that we are doing.

May I again express my appreciation to the teachers, Superintendent and the School Committee for their continued support.

HELEN R. PORTER,
Elementary Coordinator

Report of the School Nurse and Supervisor of Attendance

To The Superintendent of Schools:

I present herewith my twenty first annual report as school nurse.

There have been the usual eye and ear examinations, all pupils in grades one thru 12 were tested. Pupils who were to enter grade one in September had eye and ear examinations in May, by testing them at this time any defects that are found can be corrected before the child enters school in September. Each year since this program started we have found several children who have either defective vision or a hearing problem. Diphtheria, whooping cough, and tetanus immunization was given in October, November and December. Sabin Oral Vaccine was administered in January, February, March and May, in all schools for children in grades one thru twelve. These clinics are held under the auspices of the Board of Health with the school nurses assisting. Asian Flu Vaccine was administered in December by Dr. Sykes to all staff members requesting it. All High School Seniors were X-rayed in September.

Attendance cases are few that do not involve health, or some emotional problem. There were six attendance cases taken up with the probation officer. Three habitual school offenders were prosecuted in juvenile court. One child was sent to Middlesex County Training School, the others were placed on probation. Children were taken to the juvenile probation officer for informal visits 15 times.

May I take this opportunity to thank Mr. Harriman and the school committee for their continued help and understanding in the school nurses' program.

SCHOOL ENTRANCE

Children may enter the first grade if they are five years and nine months of age on or before September 1st of the current school year. Consequently children will be admitted to the first grade in September, 1964, if born on or before January 1, 1959. Certificates of birth and vaccination are required at the time of entrance.

COMPULSORY SCHOOL AGE

All children must attend school between the ages of seven and sixteen years. Certain exceptions may be made by written permission of the Superintendent of Schools for children who have reached the age of fourteen and have completed the sixth grade.

EMPLOYMENT OF MINORS UNDER 18

Employment permits, sometimes called "school cards", are required for all persons under eighteen who are employed in manufacturing, mechanical, mercantile, and certain other work. These may be obtained at the office of the Superintendent of Schools, Administrative Center, 128 Washington Street, or at the Principal's Office in the Fairhaven High School. Tabulation of information gathered in our annual canvass shows that there were 9,637 persons, male and female, 20 years of age or over residing in the Town January 1, 1963, and by the use of a formula generally used for estimating the total population, it was found to be 14,744. This is not an actual count — but an estimate.

All vital statistics are recorded and filed in this office, and any interested person may secure any information to which they are entitled by applying to the Town Clerk's office.

The totals for 1963 may be briefly summarized as follows:

Births 240

Marriages 174

Deaths 186

Some of the documents received, recorded, indexed, and filed in addition to the births, marriages, deaths are records of adoption decrees, chattel mortgages, tax liens, discharges, physician's certifications, etc. Other records received and filed are copies of Massachusetts statutes, Town By-Laws and rules and regulations, contracts, constables' bonds, town appointments, committees, town meeting members, records, and election expense reports.

Article 40. REPORT OF COMMITTEE

Voted:—To accept the report of the committee appointed to study the feasibility of erecting a combined fire station, police station, and civil defense headquarters.

Report read by Mr. Brock.

REPORT

Six years ago, you, the Town Meeting Members, saw the need for a new Central Fire Station and appropriated $100,000 for that purpose. At a Special Town Meeting held October 1, 1960, you, the Town Meeting Members, voted the appointment of this Committee for the purpose of studying the feasibility of the construction of a combined Central Fire Station, Police Station, and Civil Defense Headquarters, its location, costs, etc.

This Committee, since its formation, has met many times for the purpose of discussing the needs and plans of this building. The needs were definitely established and the land selected, which you, the Town Meeting Members, have now purchased at the North-east Corner of Washington Street and Bryant Lane.

We of this Committee are of a unanimous opinion that it is high time that such a building now be erected. In our discussions, all the three Departments, who are to be the Occupants, were consulted and the plans completed after revision upon revision had been made in order to give the Town the area to house our equipment and to properly space the facilities needed to accommodate the men in the various departments. Many consultations were held with the Architects and many changes were made to keep the building down to the square foot area only necessary by the Departments in order that our costs would not be prohibitive and come within the means of everyone's pocketbook.

PROPOSED BUILDING AREA AND COSTS

Combined Building Area	17,084 Square Feet
------------------------------	--------------------

ESTIMATED BUILDING COSTS

General Contract	$189,050.00
Heating Contract	16,860.00
Plumbing Contract	14,350.00
Electrical Contract	18,050.00
Total	$238,310.00

Landscaping (21,690 sq. ft.)	1,990.00
Paving (1,692 sq. yards)	3,384.00
Total	243,684.00
Architects & Engineering	16,289.00
Test Borings	325.00
Insurance	500.00
Contingency 3%	7,200.00
Clerk-of-the-Works, Telephone, Concrete Tests & Miscellaneous Expenses	7,000.00
Total Cost of Project	274,998.00
Fire Department Moving & Equipment	9,860.00
Police Department Moving and Equipment	1,499.50
GRAND TOTAL	$286,357.50

After these plans were drawn and accepted by this Committee, upon advice of Mr. James Murphy, Vice-Chairman of the Finance Committee, a Meeting in Boston was held with one of the State's Accountants in the Department of Corporations and Taxation. He reviewed our plans and the finances of our Town of Fairhaven and then gave this Committee a method upon which this Building can be erected. This method will be put in a motion in the next article.

This committee would like to emphasize the fact that year by year costs of construction are on the increase. Very soon the City of Boston and surrounding areas will be booming with construction work that will require a great number of skilled workmen. As the lack of skilled workmen increases, costs and material will continue to go up. We simply call these facts to your attention and state that Procrastination will mean greater costs in the future. In conclusion we would like to point out that this Town of Fairhaven has been most fortunate in having had a generous and foresighted Citizen, — Henry Huttleston Rogers, who donated priceless beautiful public buildings for our benefit. Not having such a spirited gentlemen of high finances in our Town now, — it becomes the problem of each and every one of the residents of Fairhaven.

With the exception of school houses, the Town of Fairhaven has not built a single public building. Let us not continue our Central Fire Station in a rented building where our valued equipment must be moved whenever there is a hurricane or exceptional high tide. Let us not continue our Police Department in the basement of our Town Hall where facilities have been long outmoded. We of this Committee highly recommend that this new Building be erected now.

This entire Committee is composed of Taxpayers who have no personal gain, but only to bring this report to you in all honesty and sincerity. We have given you our findings and costs and have brought them before you. This Committee has done its job, — we now ask you, “Are you looking forward to a better and bigger Town of Fairhaven?” The answer is in your hands.

Signed by THE COMMITTEE

Article 75. REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Mr. Silveira moved to hear and act upon the reports of any Committees appointed in any Town Meeting and to choose any committee or committees the Town may think proper.

1. Town Manager:

Your committee, appointed as a result of action taken under Article 60, Annual Town Meeting of 1962 to study Town Manager Form of Government, is composed of the following members: Mrs. Theresa Gold, Mr. James A. Vincent, Mr. Victor O. B. Slater, Mr. William H. Carey, and James B. Lanagan.

Meetings were scheduled and attended, and definite conclusions have been drawn as a result of having listened to both sides of this issue.

Periodically we hear of towns that want to look into the desirability of changing their present form of Government from a 3 man to a 5 man Board of Selectmen with the addition of a Town Manager to reign the affairs of the Town.

We found that the 5 member aspect exists in only 32 of the 312 towns, which is less than 1.5%. The general feeling was that a 5 member board was unwieldy and would create more confusion and indecision than a 3 man board.

It has been shown that a Town Manager would provide no appreciable increase in service to the Town, that was not currently being done, much more reasonably.

We have found the general consensus to be that if the present government is functioning smoothly there is little reason to change it.

One very formidable disadvantage of the manager form of government is that in many cases the town simply acts as a training school for a young man to pick up experience at the town's expense before moving on to another community that offers him more money. This is not theory. Mansfield has had three in five years, Stoughton has just appointed another and Ipswich is on its third one in six years.

Another main objection is the cost as compared with the Selectman form of government. Three years ago Westwood spent a total of $25,000 — Manager's salary $10,000., Asst., $5,200., clerical $7,200. and Selectmen's salaries $2,700. Brookline spent $16,000. for the Manager's salary; Weston spent $12,500. for the Manager and $5,200. for his assistant along with $3,400. for clerical help. Wakefield spent $12,000. for Manager and $3,700. for clerical; Wayland $10,560. for the Manager and $3,600. for his secretary, and so on down the line.

These figures prevailed over five years ago, and have no doubt increased substantially since then.

In view of the fact that a Town Manager will be more expensive; cannot save substantial amounts on purchasing, cannot improve materially on the cooperation and unity between departments and would not be needed to solve planning or engineering problems of the town, this Committee wishes to go on record against the adoption of the Town Manager Form of Government. Some attention has recently been given to the creation of a Department of Public Works in order to achieve greater efficiency and consolidation of departments. It is at this operational level where, possibly, a more balanced economy might be attained — not by creating a figurehead at the Executive level.

Respectfully submitted,

Victor O. B. Slater, Chairman

Committee to study Town Manager
Form of Government

Theresa E. Gold,

James A. Vincent

William H. Carey, Town Counsel

Victor O. B. Slater, Chairman

James B. Lanagan, Secretary
